About the College of Diplomates

The College of Diplomates was founded in 1979 to promote and support the pursuit of enhanced quality of care through the process of American Board of Orthodontics (ABO) certification, recertification, and continuing education. The College has nearly 1,800 active and retired members.

About the American Board of Orthodontics

The American Board of Orthodontics (ABO) was founded in 1929 as the first specialty board in dentistry. The ABO is the only orthodontic specialty board recognized by the American Dental Association and sponsored by the American Association of Orthodontists.
