KATHY AND I are honored to invite the College family to the next Annual Meeting in our hometown of Savannah, Georgia. We look forward to personally welcoming everyone to our charming city, truly a southern gem, which boasts a rich history and graceful architecture. The historic district was designated a National Historic Landmark in 1966 and is one of the largest of its kind in the country. Ancient live oak trees, draped with Spanish moss, line the many picturesque cobblestone streets and squares. It is no wonder that Savannah has been named one of the top five cities to visit in the United States.

We've long discussed a meeting in the spring and, with an average temperature in the seventies and azaleas in bloom, March 19-22 could not be a more perfect time to visit Savannah. The Westin Savannah Harbor Golf Resort & Spa will host us, and is easily accessible from the Savannah International Airport. Nestled on the north bank of the Savannah River, the Westin is a short but scenic water taxi across to downtown. The Resort is home to a challenging golf course that was a stop on the PGA Senior Tour, the Westin Heavenly Spa, a new tennis complex and a swimming pool that is heated year-round, where you can simply sit and enjoy the view of the city or the sight of massive ships sailing upriver to one of the largest container ports on the east coast.

An excellent scientific program is a hallmark of the College Annual Meeting. Our Scientific Chair, Dr. Jae Park, has continued that tradition, and has assembled a fantastic group of speakers to focus on clinical orthodontics. In addition, we look forward to honoring several of our leaders who have truly gone "a step beyond" in their service and dedication to the College and our specialty.

Please be assured we will continue to monitor state and federal guidelines related to COVID-19, as our top priority is to provide a safe and healthy environment for your family to connect once again with College friends and colleagues. Weather permitting, events such as the Welcome Reception, family breakfasts, and President's Dinner are scheduled to be outside on the beautiful resort property. Current guidelines regarding socially distanced seating in the lecture room, however, will mean that registration is currently limited to the first 90 doctors, plus their family members.

Dr. Robert Vaught
 2020 – 2021 President

Bring your family and comfortable shoes to explore the historic district each afternoon, or enjoy one of the unique group tours or outings we have arranged to tour the city or surrounding waters. Register early to be a part of this small, intimate College gathering and, after such an unbelievable year, look forward to a spring outing in Savannah. We can't wait to see everyone again!

Angle Society of Orthodontists. He is also with the Integrated National Board Dental Examination Ortho-Pediatric Dentistry/Advanced Dental Admission Test Construction Committee and CODA Site Visitor.

8:00 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Key Factors in Anterior Open Bite Correction

Anterior open bite (AOB) is difficult to treat because it results from the interaction of multiple etiologic factors such as heredity, unfavorable mandibular growth patterns, imbalance between the posture of the jaws, nasopharyngeal airway obstruction, digit-sucking habits, and tongue posture and activity. Proper diagnosis and treatment planning, successful treatment, and retention are important to the long-term stability of open bite treatment. In this lecture, the etiology of AOB and various treatment modalities will be discussed along with biomechanics. After the lecture, clinicians will be able to treat and finish anterior open bite cases more efficiently and successfully.

- Discuss the etiology of AOB and treatment modalities
- Evaluate upper airway dimension after AOB correction
- Know which factors affect the success of AOB correction

Dr. Park has been given the honor to present the College of Diplomates of the American Board of Orthodontics Foundation's Dr. Ray Thurow Honorary Lecture.

10:00 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

Anterior Open Bite Correction: Surgery vs. TSADs

AOB can be corrected by orthognathic surgery or orthodontic treatment. Severe skeletal, facial, and functional problems require orthognathic surgery for correction, but combining cone-beam computed tomography (CBCT) and temporary skeletal anchorage devices (TSADs) provides an efficient and accurate way to correct AOB. TSADs have expanded orthodontic boundaries. In this lecture, various clinical applications of TSADs and orthognathic surgery will be discussed in challenging AOB cases along with the new American Board of Orthodontics (ABO) Scenario-based Oral Clinical Examination domains. After the lecture, clinicians will be able to:

- Discuss how to prepare for the new ABO Scenario-based Clinical Examination in diagnosis and treatment planning, treatment implementation and management, and critical analysis and outcomes assessment of AOB cases
- Identify clinical situations in which CBCT imaging and TSADs can be used to successfully and efficiently treat and finish AOB cases while minimizing the chance of relapse
- Understand clinical applications and biomechanical considerations of orthognathic surgery vs. TSADs in challenging AOB cases

11:45 a.m. – Noon

Q&A Moderated by Dr. Robert Vaught

SUNDAY, MARCH 21

Dr. David M. Sarver received his DMD from the University of Alabama School of Dentistry and M.S. in Orthodontics from the University of North Carolina in 1979. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics, a member of the Edward H. Angle Society of Orthodontists, a Fellow in both the International and American Colleges of Dentists and is a Fellow in the American Academy of Esthetic Dentistry. He has had the honor of presenting the Salzmann, Mershon, and Angle lectures at the AAO Annual Session. In addition to his private practice, Dr. Sarver's book Esthetics in Orthodontics and Orthognathic Surgery was published in September 1998. He is also co-author (with Drs. Proffit and White) of the surgical text Contemporary Treatment of Dentofacial Deformity, and is co-author of the 4th, 5th, and 6th edition of Proffit's classic textbook Contemporary Orthodontics. His book Dentofacial Esthetics-from Macro-to Mini was published in May 2020. He has given more than 400 professional presentations in the United States, Europe, Australia and the Middle and Far East.

8:00 a.m. – 9:45 a.m., / 10:00 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

Finishing in Orthodontic Treatment: A Contemporary Perspective

Finishing in orthodontic treatment immediately evokes the mental image of the occlusal relationships and “detailing.” This is a major aspect of orthodontic treatment — the improvement and correction of functional relationships. In the recent two decades, an emphasis on esthetic outcomes has made significant strides in orthodontic treatment goal setting. Esthetic finishing of our orthodontic outcomes really begins with the initial treatment plan, but the principles of macro-mini-microesthetics have to be staged during treatment to reach the optimal result. In this presentation, Dr. Sarver will visit the many aspects of esthetic finishing that significantly raises the level of patient satisfaction in their orthodontic treatment experience. This lecture will:

- Describe the checklist approach to treatment planning flowcharts
- Cover the techniques of both soft and hard tissue finishing for maximum esthetic outcome
- Cover appropriate instrumentation and timing for esthetic finishing

11:45 a.m. – Noon

MONDAY, MARCH 22

8:00 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Dr. Valmy Pangrazio-Kulbersh is a graduate of the University of Asuncion-Paraguay and received her Certificate and MS in Orthodontics from the University of Detroit Mercy School of Dentistry. Dr. Pangrazio-Kulbersh is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics, where she serves as an examiner, Director for the Great Lakes Association of Orthodontists, and President (2020-2021). She is also a Fellow of the American College of Dentists and the International College of Dentists and is a member of the Midwest Angle Society and the first female president of the Edward H. Angle Society of Orthodontists. She has published numerous research articles and lectured extensively to national and international audiences. Presently she is adjunct Professor and Director of the Orthognathic Surgery and Early Treatment Clinics at the University of Detroit Mercy's Graduate Orthodontic Program and holds a private practice in Sterling Heights, Michigan.

Early Orthodontic Treatment Outcomes: What Clinicians Should Know

Numerous questions have been raised regarding early orthodontic treatment because of controversies and misconceptions. Recent systematic reviews have reported that the level of evidence was not sufficient to reveal the effectiveness of early orthodontic treatment because of a lack of standardization of diagnostic criteria and treatment protocol, adequate methodology, and long-term follow-up studies.

Observation and understanding of occlusal changes that occur during the transitional dentition is imperative to determine when early orthodontic treatment is indicated. This presentation will illustrate the different treatment modalities that could be applied to prevent, intercept and correct malocclusion at an early stage of dental development.

The efficacy of early orthodontic treatment in Class I, Class II and Class III malocclusions will be discussed and orthodontists will be able to:

- Evaluate factors that contribute to malocclusions during the transitional dentition period
- Understand which malocclusions could be intercepted and corrected during the early stages of dentitional development
- Understand which malocclusions can be efficiently treated during the transitional dentition

Dr. Larry Tadlock is the Chair and Program Director of the Department of Orthodontics at Texas A&M University College of Dentistry, formerly known as Baylor. Dr. Tadlock has also been in private practice in the Ft. Worth area of Texas for over 30 years and is a past president of the American Board of Orthodontics. He has served the profession in numerous other capacities including teaching board certification courses for CDABO for 13 years, and is a past president of the Southwestern Society of Orthodontists. Dr. Tadlock is a member of many professional organizations including the Edward H. Angle Society and the Texas Orthodontic Study Club.

The Truth About Treatment Outcomes: Why Do We Fail?

While clinical excellence is our stated goal, failures are more common than preferred. This lecture will review the evidence supporting an ideal occlusion, as well as the evidence covering orthodontic treatment outcomes. Topics will be discussed to help the orthodontist improve treatment outcomes:

- Establish the evidence supporting the benefits of an ideal occlusion
- Describe the causes of poor treatment outcomes
- Describe ways to reduce treatment failures, improving outcomes

Q&A Moderated by Dr. Jae Hyun Park at each lecture's conclusion

4 MAKE YOUR TRAVEL PLANS

The Savannah/Hilton Head International Airport is voted one of the top 10 best domestic airports with currently 25 non-stop destinations and service from a number of carriers --- including American Airlines, United, Delta, and several discount carriers. If flying Southwest, Savannah is an easy commute from their service into Charleston, South Carolina or Jacksonville, Florida.

ENHANCE YOUR SAVANNAH

EXPERIENCE WITH THE VAUGHTS SUGGESTED THINGS TO DO:

Founded in 1773, General James Oglethorpe designed Savannah as one of the first planned cities in the country by laying it out in a grid pattern. Today there are 22 historic squares, each with a unique personality, just waiting to be explored. Learn more at www.savannah.com/savannahs-historic-squares/

Discover the rich religious history of the city that includes the 3rd oldest Jewish Congregation in America, a Catholic Basilica, the oldest Episcopal Church in the state, and the First African Baptist Church that was founded in 1733.

Explore the roof tops of Savannah. There are many rooftop bars that offer unique views of the city, cargo ships, and massive oak trees. Suggestions include: Cotton Sail Hotel, Rocks on the Roof, Drayton Hotel, The Grove, Top Deck Bar, and Peregrin.

When author John Berendt recalled his first visit to Savannah he was told: If you go to Atlanta, the first question people ask you is, "What's your business?" In Augusta they ask your grandmother's maiden name. But in Savannah the first question people ask you is, "What would you like to drink?" It's not surprising with this attitude that the historic district has an open container policy which makes it easy to get your favorite cocktail in a "to go cup."

Discover why people flock to Savannah simply to dine. Make reservations at least a month in advance. Some favorites include: The Grey, The Pink House, Saint Neo's, Vic's on the River, Garibaldi, Noble Fare, Local 11 Ten, Stone & Webster Chophouse, Husk, Fox and Fig, Circa 1875, and Collins Quarter. A few outstanding restaurants do not take reservations but they are well worth the wait: Chive Sea Bar, Flying Monk. The best pizza in town is at Vinnie Van Go Gos.

Wander the prettiest street in America. On Jones Street, the beautiful 19th century homes are framed by an overarching canopy of Live Oak trees draped with Spanish moss.

Art lovers will not be disappointed. Consider visiting the Telfair Museum, the Jepson Center or the Museum at the Savannah College of Art and Design. Also, there is no shortage of small galleries showcasing local artists.

Get a glimpse into the past by visiting one of the historic homes. Recommendations include: Owens-Thomas House, Juliette Gordon Low's Birthplace, Andrew Low House, and Harper Fowlkes House.

Discovering local beer is a fun way to spend the afternoon. Visit one or possibly more of the local breweries. Our favorites include: Two Tides and Southbound.

There are trendy boutiques scattered around the city. Some of our favorites include: The Paris Market, One Fish Two Fish, E. Shaver Books, Savannah Bee Company, and Copper Penny.

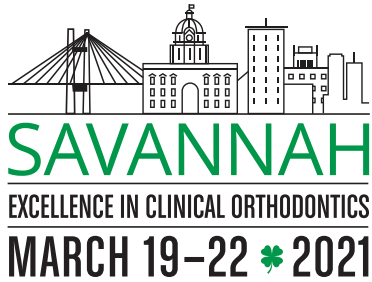

It is an easy 30-minute drive from Savannah to the Atlantic Ocean. If you go to Tybee, stop to visit its historic lighthouse. Fort Pulaski, which guarded the Savannah River entrance during the Civil War. It is a National Monument and also on the way.

Or, you may enjoy relaxing and not want to leave the resort...watch expansive cargo ships traveling along the Savannah River, play the 18-hole PGA championship golf course, check out the new tennis complex, relax with an appointment at the Heavenly Spa (note 10% group discount), use the fitness center with sauna and workout classes, take a long walk or run on the spacious grounds, and enjoy the heated outdoor pool.
